

Stakesby's News! 8th December 2017 (314)

Dear Parents, Carers and Families,
 Everyone is really busy at the moment getting ready to share our festive events with you. Some children are enthusiastically learning their lines and songs for our Christmas plays. Some are preparing songs and readings for our Christmas Celebration. It seems that every class is full of cutting, sticking, sewing and colouring. Everything has glitter on it! The tree and the decorations are up in the hall. It's a lovely atmosphere and we are all looking forward to sharing it with you.

British Values...Mutual Respect at Stakesby

As Advent seems to be whizzing quickly by, most of the children are immersed in Christmas traditions and celebrations both at home and in school. For Christians, Christmas is an important time and in school the children will learn why through R.E. lessons and Assemblies. In the near future, we will be holding a 'Celebrations and Festivals' workshop for the children to learn about important traditions and customs in other cultures. It is through knowledge and understanding, that we develop tolerance and respect.

Supporting Your Child At Home...At Christmas!

One of the best ways to learn is through real everyday activities and also by having fun! What better way to support your young child in recognising numbers, sequences and let's not forget odd and even numbers than through opening an Advent Calendar! For older children brain teasers are brilliant! Why not get them started on this one...

In the song '12 Days of Christmas', how many gifts are given in total???
